SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS – Port San Antonio employees, area residents and eventgoers from throughout the region and nation will soon have access to an array of new dining options on the Port's vast tech innovation campus.

Tech Port Provisions, a dedicated food hall that will feature offerings from six home-grown food and drink vendors, will debut inside Tech Port Center + Arena on May 2.

Among the offerings will be pizza, BBQ, comfort food and Asian and Mexican cuisine — as well as a full-service 'fast-craft' bar.

San Antonio's diverse culinary scene is reflected within Tech Port Provisions and will offer guests from near and far an authentic local experience — bringing expanded food options not previously available within close proximity of the Port. Guests will have access to the following restaurants and coffee shops: The Big Bib BBQ; Brevity Coffee; Capo's Pizza; The Pantry (operated by Earl Abel's); Kuriya (operated by Cherrity Bar); and La Tienda de Birria (also operated by Cherrity Bar).

Tech Port Provisions will also feature Tech Pour, a full-service bar that will offer robust and efficient service while featuring beer, wine and spirits that complement Tech Port Center + Arena's diverse entertainment lineup of esports events, concerts and conventions. Guests can select from themed cocktails such as The 1979, a drink named in honor of the arena's first headlining act, The Smashing Pumpkins.
